On Tradition

Tradition trumpets
Time's passing song
Of life whose heartfelt
Call beats strong.

Rites, entrusted with Laughter and tears,
Mark the milestones
Of our years.

From godly images
Captured in our minds
In written words
And celluloid designs

On pages pressed,
Bound, and reserved,
Springs each generation's
Hope: to preserve

In tradition—
Mankind's sacred urn—
Time's blessings for which We mortals all yearn.

DISTINGUISHED FACULTY

Pamela Buccelli, Ed. D., MT (ASCP), Director, Associate and Bachelor Degree Medical Technology Programs, received the Distinguished Faculty Award at the June, 1989 Commencement Ceremonies. This award is given for excellence in teaching and outstanding service to the School of Health Sciences and Humanities.

"As a teacher Dr. Buccelli has positively influenced numerous students. Throughout the country there are former students providing an invaluable service to persons in need as a direct result of her instruction and caring. She has the rare ability to take complex concepts and reconstruct them in a more intelligible form without loss of significant meaning. Additionally, Dr. Buccelli is able to weave visible strands of information into a pattern of comprehension illuminating the connectedness among ideas. Her self-elected primary mission within her profession at large is to emphasize the centrality of a well coordinated, cooperative working relationship between the "ivory tower" of academia and the clinical laboratory sites where students train and are employed. A proper integration of these two elements of the students' education and training is at the heart of her philosophical vision."

taken from Dr. Buccelli's nomination letter.

The students and the yearbook staff wish to congratulate Dr. Buccelli on receiving this award
